Getting to know Canada

In your first few months, you will get to know Canada—our people, the languages, our culture, the food, the climate and so much more. Canada offers you a safe and secure place to live, work and travel.

The people and places you encounter will shape your life here. International students in Canada tend to be awestruck by the beauty of our 4 seasons. Summer, fall, winter and spring are all very distinct and each offers its own recreational activities and fun when it comes to exploring:

In summer, you can go boating on one of our many lakes, swim in the ocean and play volleyball on the beach. It's also a great season to see Canada as a tourist.

During the fall, you'll love exploring the countryside to see the splendour of our autumn leaves, hiking up a mountain or through the woods on a crisp day as well as enjoying the outdoors with your friends.

Once winter comes, it's time to grab your snow gear and join in some great Canadian fun. You can learn to ski or snowshoe, build a snowman, have a snowball fight with your friends or simply enjoy the peaceful sound of walking through the woods in winter.

Spring is a time for renewal in Canada, as the birds return from the south and flowers bloom in the gardens. It's also "sugaring off" season.

For decades, Canada has welcomed international students from around the globe. Through them, they have discovered there's plenty to love about Canada. There are many advantages of making Canada your education destination:

You'll learn with the best and brightest

Canada is recognized worldwide for its outstanding quality of education—from elementary school to post-secondary studies. The educators are highly trained and bring diverse perspectives to the classroom. At the university level, 2 out of every 5 academics hold at least one international degree. And it has 11 of the top 250 universities worldwide.

Canada will welcome you with open arms

The 'warm and friendly' stereotype about Canadians is true. When you come to Canada, you'll find a welcoming country with a unique Canadian culture that embraces diversity. From urban centres to small towns, Canada is considered one of the safest countries in the world for international students.

The quality of life ranks highest in the world

If you're looking for the high life, we have it. Canadians and international students in Canada enjoy a high standard of living. It's a great place to live and work. In fact, we rank #1 in the world when it comes to quality of life. According to the World University Rankings, we also have 5 of the top 100 best student cities in the world.

A path to a promising future

We like to study too. In fact, we've researched graduate outcomes for our students—both domestic and international—for years. And you know what we've learned? Canadian college and university students graduate with a strong earning potential. That's because we position them (and you) for a successful future and rewarding careers. In the last decade alone, Canada created 1.6 million new jobs for graduates.

The cost to study and living is affordable

Canada is known for having some of the lowest university tuition fees among English-speaking countries. Whatever your budget may be, you'll find something just right for you in our diverse range of education options. Research the cost of post-secondary programs and living expenses in the city or town of your choice so you can prepare your budget.

An experience like no other

Adventure awaits you in Canada! One of the greatest things about studying in Canada is the opportunity to experience a climate, culture and way of life that is beyond compare. From seeing the vibrant colours of our autumn leaves to the soft sounds of snowshoeing through the forest, each season and place has so much to offer

Canadian work experience

You need to have the right kind of work experience

As a student, you may have opportunities to get Canadian work experience. This includes opportunities to work:

ON - campus

OFF - campus

as a co-op student or intern as part of your study program

These are valuable experiences, but only the work you do after you graduate will count when you apply for permanent residence.

That's why it's important to use the post-graduation work permit to get the kind of work experience that will make you eligible for an immigration program.
